The Final Impact - There Are No Arms To Hold You

Verse

The claws of war took you away from your beloved family
Took all your courage, all your joy of live
You fight a war in full regret so far away from home
Unaware if you will ever get back
... And the backwards drown in suspense

Chorus

Are you dead? Or are you out alive?
Are you hurt or are you slayed? Aware there's no reply
There are no arms to hold you

Verse

No chance to write, no chance to speak, no chance at all to communicate
You're just another piece of flesh to fight
You can see bodies every day, you have to kill, so normally,
Your soul was sold to a war machine
... And the backwards drown in suspense

Bridge

Hope dissapears in desperation
There are no arms to hold you

Chorus

Are you dead? Or are you out alive?
Are you hurt or are you slayed? Aware there's no reply
You said goodbye, you hear your children cry, a last kiss for your wife
Hold her hand for one more time, there are no arms to hold you!

Bridge

You see the faces of your children right before sleep in your minds eye
A smile flitted across your face
In soothing hope you doze away

Outro

A smashing impact breaks the nascent, trappy esperance away
You have no time left for your feelings, nevermore,
All you have to do is fight! fight! fight!
